A.C.T. PREPARATION COURSE

This American College Test (A.C.T.) preparation course will meet on the following two Saturdays—January 21 & 28, 2012—from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Ohio University-Chillicothe, 101 University Drive, Chillicothe, Ohio. Students need to make their own arrangements for lunch, which will be from approximately 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. These sessions are designed to help area high school students and O.U. College of Education majors prepare for the A.C.T. by providing an in-depth review in math, science, English, and reading comprehension. The classes will also cover the optional writing section, and provide information, hints, and techniques for coping with test anxiety and taking the test. The A.C.T. is America's most widely accepted college entrance exam and is required for admission to various colleges and programs.

You may desire to visit their website for closing information or to sign up to receive notifications via 3-mail or cell phones/pagers (text messaging) when school and institutional closings or delays are issued for our area by visiting the following website: www.nbc4i.com/closings/index.html. Students who live at a distance from campus, or who live on unsafe roads, should use their own judgment about attending classes when classes remain as scheduled. Student, Faculty and Staff safety is always our first concern.
